ABOUT LYNN UNIVERSITY

Located in Boca Raton, Lynn University hosts over 3,000 students from one hundred and four countries and 47 states. US News and World Report named the university one of the most innovated colleges in 2016 & 2017.

LYNN UNIVERSITY CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Lynn Conservatory of Music has established a high standard of musical training with a world-class artist faculty, highly talented and motivated students, and critically acclaimed performances. Only the most talented applicants are accepted and mentored by the extraordinary faculty. Under Conductor Dr. Jon Robertson's leadership, the Conservatory's Philharmonia Orchestra sets the standard for conservatory-level symphonic training. Now in its 26th season as a full symphony, the Philharmonia is an integral part of the education of the conservatory's graduate and undergraduate music programs. The orchestra presents an annual series of high-quality concerts with a wide range of repertoire.

DR. JON ROBERTSON, Conductor

Dr. Jon Robertson enjoys a distinguished career as pianist, conductor, and academician. Jamaican-born, he began his piano career with a debut at Town Hall in New York City at age nine. He continued music studies as a child prodigy with renowned pianist Ethel Leginska. He was awarded a full scholarship to the Julliard School where he earned his B.M., M.S., and D.M.A. degrees. His conducting career spans the globe from symphony orchestras in Norway, Sweden, China, Egypt, South Africa, and Austria. Maestro Robertson was conductor and music director of the Redlands Symphony Orchestra in California until his retirement in 2016. He was also the former chair of the Herb Alfred School of Music at UCLA. While at UCLA, Dr. Robertson created the Music Outreach Program for inner-city African-American and Latino students. This program was expanded to tutor students in math and reading resulting in 98% of the students continuing to college. For his accomplishments, Dr. Robertson received the President's Award for Outreach Programs.
